

HEALTH SECTOR PFM ADVISER

Posted on 05/05/2023

The role

Prospera is looking for a Health Sector Public Financial Management (PFM) Adviser to support the implementation of the Health Spending Review. The spending review is a core part of the public financial management framework to improve the quality of spending.

The Health Sector PFM Adviser will bring high-quality advisory assistance and strong technical capacity in supporting the implementation of the Health Spending Review. S/he will be responsible for conducting an analysis of the PFM component of the study, particularly to evaluate budget formulation phase of the PFM cycle with policy research questions on how public spending is prioritised and funds are allocated. The study will involve a desk review of the PFM cycle in the health sector and in-depth interviews with relevant stakeholders, particularly to identify gaps and room for improvement in the existing health-related PFM policies and regulations. In addition, S/he will also provide technical expertise and insights for the other components to ensure a coherent overall narrative of the overall review.
